

Cyril Dunděra for Lasvit product Globe-Metro. standout The Czech designer's pendant fixture references the 1970's round tiles in Prague's metro, the flame-worked borosilicate-glass globe punctuated by concave hemispheres in an iridescent finish. Jasvit.com product Patcha.

standout Emblematic of the Interior Design Hall of Famer's yen for experimentation and upcycling, the hand-knotted rug is made of sustainably dyed Himalayan wool plus silk cast off from sari production. cc-tapis.com

Daria Vasilkova of REDA product Short-SovSport. standout A cabinet topped by an opening for live plants is bedecked in ceramic tiles illustrated with the Russian designer's ironic reworkings of USSR propaganda posters. vasilkovadaria.com

Enrico Fratesi and Stine Gam for Hay product Dorso.

standout Inspired by a torso twisting, the surprise function of GamFratesi's lounge chair is the 360-degree swivel of the seat, which is set upon legs of oak or powder-coated or chromed steel.

Arthur Casas for +55 Design product Côncava. standout The walnut sideboard by the Studio Arthur Casas founder and Interior Design Hall of Famer is faced with mirror-finished stainless-steel doors inset with large and small concave circles. studio55.design product Elio #8. standout Capped by a luminous globe, the table lamp's stacked resin base cast in a textured silicone mold evokes sugar-dusted sweets. soft-geometry.com

Leo Aerts of Alinea Design Objects product Angelo M. standout The Belgian architect's minimalist pedestal table is available in nine honed, polished, or brushed stones, including red travertine, as a circle or an oval, and in six sizes. alineadesignobjects.com

Deborah Berke for Warp & Weft product Dawn 1.

standout For the Deborah Berke Partners principal and Interior Design Hall of Famer, natural light is akin to a building material, a concept translated into a wool-silk rug, part of her firm's first-ever product line. warpandweft.com
